| Diamond | Open     | 304 Wave                                    | A very unique idea and perspective. For subjects like waves, it is recommended to use a high-speed shutter speed to freeze the details and texture of the waves, or use a long exposure to show the silky softness and curvaceous shape. At the same time, it is recommended to shoot when the light is soft to prevent overexposure. |                                                                       | 22      |
